Ceylon Wild Black Tea Rod (100% Hand Crafted)

Introduction:

Our wild tea is truly made from a tea estate lies at 2900 feet and spans over 100 acres. This abandoned tea plantation has now become a forest with a large biodiversity where the tea trees still grows, today as big tea trees among the other vegetation. Tea leaves are plucked from 30-40 feet high tea trees and carted out of the jungle by foot. Its unique earthy character is given by the nutrients absorbed from the tap root in deep layers of the rich soil in unspoiled environment. Versatile and robust, each rod brews 1 liter of rich black tea, hot or cold. The quality of the Palm Rush Natural Wild Tea Rods is maintained by producing in small batches by hand with great care.
